The COVID-19 pandemic is shining a cruel light on the state of men’s health globally. Men are much more likely than women to die from the virus, in large part because of their greater risk of already having a serious underlying disease. This risk is linked to the historic failure to address men’s health in policy at the global, national and local levels.

In Men’s Health Week 2020, Global Action on Men’s Health is launching a major new report, From the Margins to the Mainstream: Advocating the inclusion of men’s health in policy. This examines why health policy has been a no man’s land, what opportunities exist for progress, and how men’s health advocates can most effectively make their case.

GAMH is holding two webinars, each lasting about an hour, to share and discuss the report’s findings. Please join us.

WEBINAR ONE

Aimed mainly at an audience from Europe and the Americas on:

Wednesday 17 June 2020, at:
- 07.00 PDT (San Francisco, Vancouver)
- 10.00 EDT (New York, Washington DC)
- 11.00 BRT (Rio de Janeiro)
- 15.00 BST (Dublin, London)
- 16.00 CEST (Berlin, Copenhagen, Paris, Rome))

GAMH’s new report will be presented by Peter Baker, GAMH Director.

There will be short responses from:
- Dr Noel Richardson, Director of the National Centre for Men’s Health at Carlow Institute of Technology (Ireland)
- Dr Rosemary Morgan, Assistant Scientist, Department of International Health, Johns Hopkins Bloomberg School of Public Health (USA)

The webinar will be chaired by Professor Steve Robertson, Editor of the International Journal of Men’s Social and Community Health

To join the webinar on 17 June, register here.

WEBINAR TWO

Aimed mainly at an audience from Asia, Australia and New Zealand on:

Wednesday 1 July 2020, at:
- 07.00 BST (Dublin, London)
- 08.00 CEST (Berlin, Copenhagen, Paris, Rome)
- 11.30 IST (New Delhi)
- 14.00 MYT (Kuala Lumpur)
- 16.00 AEST (Sydney)
- 18.00 NZST (Auckland)

GAMH’s new report will be presented by Peter Baker, GAMH Director.

There will be a short response from:
- Glen Poole, CEO of the Australian Men’s Health Forum

The webinar will be chaired by Dr Anthony Brown, GAMH Chair.

One other speaker will be announced shortly.

To join the webinar on 1 July, register here.